Jury in Case of Mrs. Gertrude Merrill vs.
Deputy Sheriff Bassett Set Damages at That Figure—Exceptions to be Filed.
A verdict of $2250 for the plaintiff was reported Friday in the York County supreme court, at Alfred, in a damage suit of Mrs. Gertrude Merrill of Buxton against Deputy Sheriff Albert P. Bassett.

In January, 1900, Mrs. Merrill, whose home was in Norway, was employed in Mechanic Falls, and being taken ill,
petitioned the town authorities for aid.
The selectmen of Norway were notified,
and Chairman D. S. Sanborn, accompanied by Bassett, went to Mechanic Falls, conveyed Mrs. Merrill in a pug to the station, and on their arrival at South Paris drove her home, a distance of a mile. Mrs. Merrill claims that she was roughly handled by Deputy Sheriff Bassett, subjected to exposure to the extreme cold, and that, being in no condition for such a midwinter journey, her health was permanently impaired.

The defendant denied the rough handling, and testified that Mrs. Merrill expressed a willingness to make the journey, and that her Mechanic Falls physician said it would not be hazardous for her.

Mrs. Day of Mechanic Falls testified that Mrs. Merrill was quite sick and her limbs swollen the day she was moved.
She testified as to what clothing Mrs.
Merrill wore, and said that she was moved as carefully as possible. Ethel Marshall of Mechanic Falls said the day was very cold with a strong wind. Did not think plaintiff was handled roughly.
Heard her groaning in the station.

Judge Foster said no question was raised as to right of selection to remove plaintiff, but the only question was as to manner. This he claimed was proper and extraordinary precautions had been taken to ensure comfort.

D. S. Sanborn, Norway, said that Dr.
Rankin of Mechanic Falls told him Mrs.
Merrill was in condition to be moved,
Jan. 30, 1900. He purchased all clothing she requested and she seemed to be pleased with the idea of returning to Norway. She was handled with utmost care.

E. P. Jones, Portland, weather observer. The temperature at 7.45 a. m. was 14 degrees above zero, at 3 p. m., 28.
The wind S. W. 19 miles per hour, no snow.

A. P. Bassett, Norway, testified he heard Dr. Rankin say Mrs. Merrill was fit to be moved that day. She said she was ready and able to go, was dressed in a chair. O. S. Knight of Mechanic Falls helped him take her to the team and also to the train. She was taken into the house at Norway, which was warm and put in charge of Mrs. Carrier.
Dr. Annette Bennett of Norway testified as to Mrs. Merrill's condition and fitness to be moved.

Bassett will file exceptions.

Uncle Terry at Opera House.
I take pleasure in announcing the engagement, next Wednesday, Oct. 1, at Norway Opera House of Mr. James R.
Waite in "Uncle Terry." The manager
says:

James R. Waite is the successor of James A. Herne. In "Uncle Terry" he gives a characterization which was never surpassed by the author of "Sag Harbor" and which it may be said, the distinguished playwright seldom equaled.
Uncle Terry is the first figure in the play bearing his name. Mr. Waite invests him with a marvelous power in facial expression and physical attitude, which are more convincing than any lines put into the mouth. The keenest soul in his acting, at an embarrass-ingly close range, revealed no flaw in those parts of his exquisitely fine delineation. The play is in no way unconventional. The scenery is superb, particularly in the prologue, where stage effect fairly surpasses itself in a snow storm scene.

Rev. Philip Moxom, pastor of South
Congregational Church, Springfield,
Mass., observed:

I take pleasure in saying that "Uncle Terry" is a most interesting and entirely wholesome play; full of humor and pathos, thoroughly human, and free from anything morbid. I enjoyed it exceedingly and shall welcome the opportunity of seeing it again.

THE NORWAY ADVERTISER

(OXFORD COUNTY, ME.)

NUMBER 39. SEPTEMBER 26, 1902, NORWAY AND SOUTH PARIS, MAINE. VOLUME XXXIII.

Words of Praise from Biddeford.

The Biddeford Journal, one of the sanest papers in Maine, Saturday, said
editorially:

"The best report of any county fair that has thus far appeared in any of the Maine papers is the Norway Advertiser's write-up of the Oxford County Agricultural society's sixtieth annual exhibition. This report covers the ground comprehensively, and is a model of its kind."

Not a Candidate.
The Hyde Park Gazette of Sept. 13, 1902, has this to say of a man we all know:

Dr. Jefferson Cushing Gallison of Franklin, who has been frequently mentioned for the Republican nomination for senator in the second district, is out in a newspaper interview, and he is not quite ready to be the victim of political boodlers. He says in true Jeffersonian language, "The appreciative words of friends, especially those of the newspapers are extremely pleasant. I am not in the market for political trading, having sought no man's vote or influence. It may be the required price,
I will not pay it."

At Opera House, Friday Evening.
The sale of seats for the Society Minstrels is going finely and a big house is assured. No entertainment in years has created the interest this one has.

People have heard of this show in other places and know it is always been a success and therefore have confidence in it. There is lots of friendly rivalry in the cake walk as it is a question who will get the cake, not so much for the cake itself, but for the honor of winning it.

The pickaninies are ridiculously
funny even in a rehearsal, in white face, so one can imagine what they will be in black face, with old patched clothes.
They are funnier for being unconscious of the fact. The whole show is now thoroughly drilled and rehearsed and will make an evening of pleasure long to be remembered.

was tough.

there. Uncle Jim came in and paid for his ADVERTISER as he has for many years past, but says he is getting to be too old to follow the track much longer.
He says he is 85 years old. We can hardly believe it, as he would easily pass for one of seventy.

We received a letter from our South
Woodstock correspondent, which read as follows: "Enclosed is $1.50 for a year's subscription to the ADVERTISER—
an old resident of this place, now living in Massachusetts, who thinks there is no better way to hear from home." That is true. We want all the news—and we want all the people in the world, where-ever located, who are interested in Oxford county news to have a copy of the ADVERTISER every week. $1.50 pays for 52 visits of the paper. Our correspondents are authorized to take subscriptions and give receipts for money received. "Buy or borrow a copy." Better buy and have a copy each week and not bother your neighbor.

piece, "Hold Thou My Hand." The in-

WOULD NOT INSURE HIM.

Insurance Companies refused to insure the Rev. J. W. Yerisley because he had kidney trouble.

This case is but one of thousands where the head of the house was refused insurance, because he had kidney trouble. Mr. Yerisley had given up in despair when some friend recommended Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and it cured him.

Mr. Yerisley writes: "My kidneys and liver were in bad condition and I was anxious for relief. I had tried many remedies without success and when I bought a bottle of 'Favorite Remedy,' it was with but little faith in its helping me, but in a short time it effectively proved its merit. Perhaps the best proof I can give that it has completely cured me is to state that I have since been accepted by four different life insurance companies."

The Rev. Mr. Yerisley is the pastor of the First Reformed Church of St. Paris, Ohio, and is as well the editor of the St. Paris Dispatch.

Greed of Gold.

How strange is this great land of ours where all we hear is trust, where all we see is greed of gold.

Does honest labor count for naught, with no reward to gain? This land of the free and brave, how long must this remain? Is there no law to break this spell? Can no one see the harm?

Somebody Has Made a Mistake.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER.—Through the columns of your paper I would like to correct a mistake made in last week's issue. Among taxes advertised for sale in the town of Sweden for the year 1901 were those of Nelson Gamage heirs for timber on the Gamage farm. I now own what has always been taxed as the Gamage farm, and the taxes on said farm were paid the 27th day of last December, ten days after the bill was sent. I hold tax collector's receipt for same.

Other property in Sweden, formerly owned by my father, in which I hold no interest, has never before been taxed by the name of the Gamage farm, and it is somebody's mistake that it is so advertised. CARLIE GAMAGE FRYBERG, Portland, Sept. 22, 1902.

BUCKFIELD.

Monday, a busy day.
Monday was an eventful day for Buckfield. When anything happens in Buckfield it generally comes in junks and this was no exception. In the morning Sheriff Warren arrested a man for single sale. It seems that one man furnished another man $3.75 to go to Hebron depot and procure a box of liquor. Both men claimed that the box was consigned to the man called for a box for Coffey, the agent brought it out and put it in his wagon. On the route home they took it into the bush and opened up four long lockers. A general drunk followed. Squire Parsons not finding sufficient proof the prisoner was released. Then Sheriff Warren seized at this depot two boxes of liquor, then going to Hebron to take in their stock there was notice to be found. A bird may have flown that way but they have enough to make a test case.

Get the Most Out of Your Food

You don't eat and can't if your stomach is weak. A weak stomach does not digest all that is ordinarily taken into it. It gets tired easily, and what it fails to digest is wasted.

Among the signs of a weak stomach are: uneasiness after eating, fits of nervous headache, and disagreeable belching. I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla at different times for stomach troubles, and it has run down condition of the system, and have been greatly benefited by its use. I would not be without it in my family. I am troubled especially in summer with weak stomach and nausea and find Hood's Sarsaparilla invaluable." E. B. HICKMAN, W. Chester, Pa.

Fair Premiums.
To our award of premiums last week should be added: Town teams—horses, $10; Norway, $5.
Committee—H. M. Fiske, N. E. Morrell, G. W. Q. Perham.

Total amount of premiums awarded, this year, was $2,710.25.

The premiums will be paid at the Secretary's office, next Saturday afternoon, Sept. 27th.

All winners of premiums are expected to call at the Secretary's office, next Saturday afternoon, and get their money.

A lady's gray jacket was found on the fair grounds and is waiting an owner at the Secretary's office.

The following shows the amount of money received for the sale of tickets and the amount of premiums paid in the past 11 years, also receipts for membership for 10 years:

Year	Tickets	Premium
1892	20	$2709.74
1893	27	2912.78
1894	14	2648.65
1895	19	3173.09
1896	28	2509.84
1897	28	2741.87
1898	22	2725.03
1899	22	2759.70
1900	22	2803.68
1901	22	2850.26
1902	22	2882.80

It will be seen by the above that the receipts from tickets this year exceeded that of last year by $22.04. It is the expression of the public that a vastly greater number of people attended the fair this year than a year ago, and that more people were on the grounds than ever before. The receipts for 1899 and 1900 exceeded the amount received this year, $28.85 and $200.79 respectively.

Few leaf papers in the State give an estimate of 25,000 word story of a county fair. This is what the ADVANTAGE did last week, and the office crew wasn't jarred very much either. They all found time to attend the great show of an afternoon. The exhibition, in every particular, was the best ever held on the grounds of the society and was worth the story in and in Oxford County's greatest Neutral paper. The story was told as it was seen and judged from the sale of papers was appreciated by the public.

Uncle Samuel Gurney of Hebron helped distribute Wednesday's Fair ADVANTAGE. He enjoyed doing it as the people seemed "were so glad to get them." For several years past Mr. Gurney has given the ADVANTAGE a helping hand in circulating it among friends on the grounds. Three thousand copies of the paper were given to patrons of the fair after three o'clock Wednesday. We doubt if 50 copies of the paper were thrown down and left upon the grounds. The people took them home and read them. Some of the papers are an excellent advertising medium for the merchants of the town. If you were not "in it" this year you lost a good thing. Don't let it go again.

Harrison furnishes a goodly number of students for Bridgton Academy, there being upwards of twenty in a total of about thirty. The town has no high school, but furnishes free tuition at the academy for all students who can pass the necessary examinations.

The season has been so cold that it is hard for the "oldest inhabitant" to remember its equal. Only seven days in the whole season thus far on which the mercury reached 90, and only two on which it went above that point, 92 on July 8 being the hottest day. The total rainfall in May, June, July and August was 14.61 inches, which is not an excessive amount. Up to the present time, Sept. 22, there has been no general frost, though there has been a killing frost over a quite limited area.

Ira A. Kneeland has sold his farm in South Harrison to George A. Adams of Paris. Mr. Kneeland has bought of Geo. E. T. his house near the railroad station at the village, it being the Otis Haskell house now occupied by Mrs. Lydia Brigham. Mr. Kneeland will probably move during the present week.

The coming cattle show and fair to be held at South Harrison, Oct. 7-8, is beginning to attract considerable attention and promises to be very successful. A new feature is the Grange exhibitions, which are to be held by three Granges, Crooked River, Casco and Naples, and it is not unlikely that the combined exhibition may fill quite a portion of the hall.

Letter to George Austin.

Norway, Me.

Dear Sir: The usual paint, lead and oil, is made more durable by the addition of zinc; as the more intelligent painters know.

Lead and oil, they say, last three years. Add zinc and it lasts three years with a margin, they say; but painters generally advise to paint once in three years.

Devoe lead and zinc is nothing but lead zinc color dryer and oil; but it lasts about twice as long as painters reckon.

Mr. Knox, an undertaker for fifty years at Brewster, N. Y., painted Devoe nine years ago. The paint is said to be in about as good condition as when it was first put on.

Lead and oil don't last nine years.

Yours truly,

F. W. DEVOE & CO.

Oxford County Fair.

Something to be Proud of. The old Oxford County Fair has been wisely enough to stick to the first principles. It has its reverses, but it grows better and better and more agricultural each year. People like to go to it and it bids fair to soon be the only agricultural fair in the face of the earth. Just hear this from an exchange:

"The decadence of the country fair is a matter of regret, but it does not believe, as our contemporary claims to believe, that the trouble originated in the fact that the managers anxious to make all the money possible, have admitted to the grounds and permitted to do business with at least a semi-official license, all sorts of games of chance and devices to rob the unwary." This condition is more in the nature of an effect than of a cause.

When the first newspaper man referred to the country fair as an agricultural horse trot he may have been sarcastic, but there were grounds for his sarcasm. The average farmer possesses the average amount of human nature, and he took only too kindly to the idea of a fair in which the alleged trotting horse was depended upon to furnish most of the entertainment. Trials of speed by trotting horses were formerly more fun than money, and as the amusement year after year assumed more and more a business aspect the agricultural features of fairs were allowed to vanish gradually. With the "agricultural horse trot" the other undesirable things which are so conspicuous on every fair ground at the present time. With the putting forward of the trotting horse as the main attraction at fairs there was a corresponding decrease of interest in other features of stock.

Farmers breed horses with the idea that the possession of a fast horse was the one thing to be desired, and stopped raising cattle and sheep and swine. The result, from an agricultural point of view, was disastrous, for in the matter of success in the raising of horses for speed, many are called but few are chosen. In searching for the remedy for the present trouble with our county fairs we must get back to first principles. The gamblers must be kicked out, not as a cure, but as a preliminary to make way for the only course of treatment which can be effective.

After this fraternity has been relegated to the limbo located a dozen miles outside the fair grounds, then the horse trot must be made secondary to the purely agricultural features of the show. The managers are not altogether to blame; they have tried to give the people what they wanted. Prizes for equine speed must be fixed at a low figure, and premiums for purely agricultural products, for cattle and small stock, proportionately increased. It is not so much that the farmer is unwilling to match his cattle against a pack of gamblers, for the farmers themselves constitute a larger proportion of the crowd that is attracted to county fairs, but that the farmers as a rule have been looking at the situation through glasses which distort the perspective.

WEST FRYEBURG.

Acute Dementia. The many friends of Stephen Farrington here and in Fryeburg received a sad-sending shock when on Sunday, the 14th it was learned that his long illness had culminated in acute dementia.

Monday morning, accompanied by his physician, he was removed to the Insane Hospital, Augusta. Mr. Farrington is a little over sixty and his whole life has been spent in the section where he has earned the confidence and respect of the community, consequently the misfortune comes as a blow.

D., of La Crosse, Wis., who with his wife has been visiting here. It was found that Prof. Ballard had suffered a fracture of one of the small bones of the leg being severely shaken up and bruised.

SURGICAL OPERATIONS

How Mrs. Bruce, a Noted Opera Singer, Escaped an Operation. Proof That Many Operations for Ovarian Troubles are Unnecessary.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Travelling for years on the road, with irregular meals and sleep and damp beds, broke down my health so completely two years ago that the physician advised a complete rest, and when I had gained sufficient vitality, an operation for ovarian troubles. Not a very cheerful prospect, to be sure. I, however, was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash; I did so, fortunately for me. Before a month had passed I felt that my general health had improved; in three months more I was cured, and I have been in perfect health since. I did not lose an engagement or miss a meal."

"Your Vegetable Compound is certainly wonderful, and well worthy the praise your admirers friends who have been cured are ready to give you. I always speak highly of it, and you will admit I have good reason to do so."

Mrs. G. Bruce, Lansing, Mich. $5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.

The fullest counsel on this subject can be secured without cost by writing to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be entirely confidential.

Centennial Celebration.

Friday, September 12th, a very happy party was gathered at the ancestral home of the Stickney family at East Brownfield, being called together to celebrate the fact that Brownfield should no longer be a gay and frolicsome anti-city of youth, but a sober New England town of a hundred summers, for it was incorporated in 1802 by act of the General Court of Massachusetts, and its first town meeting was held in April of that year.

No more fitting place could be found for its loyal sons and daughters to gather than at the Stickney mansion which has been one of the town landmarks throughout its history. In fact the house is older than the road which passes it, for it was built on the hill, behind its present site by Major Stickney in the early days of the nineteenth century and was a hotel much patronized by the travelers who journeyed from New Hampshire and Vermont to Portland with the produce of their rocky farms.

When upon the mists of our Puritan ancestors there dawned the idea that although high thinking and high living are most desirable, it isn't always best to be on the mountain top, but to descend into the valley is sometimes advantageous, they laid out a new road through the lower lands, for which many generations of horses have had reasons to be grateful. The hotel followed the road, being moved bodily from the top of the hill to its present position, where it is now the home of the great-grandchildren of its first occupant.

Although no longer an inn towards which the weary travelers hastened, sure of good cheer for man and beast, the spirit of hospitality lingers yet about the pleasant home, and the fortunate guest is as sure of his welcome as in the days of long ago.

A little after 12 o'clock, Friday, dinner was served to a company of eighteen relatives and friends. Among them was Col. A. G. Payne of New York, whose childhood days were passed in this neighborhood, Mrs. Elizabeth Whiting of Cambridge and Minnie Bradley of Fryeburg. During the progress of the banquet a letter was read from Mrs. Stephen Farrington of Fryeburg and a telegram from Senator Paris Gibson of Montana, expressing their regrets at not being able to be present.

From two till four a numerous company of the townspeople thronged the spacious parlors and renewed acquaintance with each other. Old-time songs were sung. Some very interesting reminiscences of the family whose members had lived here or had gone forth from the old home were given by Mr. Cameron, the pastor of the Congregationalist church at Brownfield Center.

"Some very enjoyable remarks were made by Col. Payne. Letters were read from Mrs. Susan Stickney Wakefield of California and Orrin Gibson of the same State, and from Senator Paris Gibson of Montana, all conveying good wishes and showing that the writers still held their birthplace in fond recollection.

We also had the pleasure of listening to a very interesting letter from Samuel Stickney describing his surroundings in the Philippines, where he is now engaged in teaching. A tribute was paid to the memory of his grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. Zachariah Gibson, by Charles O. Stickney of Hampton, N. H. After singing Old Lang Syne the company dispersed, each with a strong determination to be in the same place at the end of the next hundred hundred years, if possible.

EAST HEBRON.

Busy Thieves.
Thieves are remarkably busy of late, more so than ever before is said by our oldest inhabitants. George F. McKenney lost a basket and horse blanket. One morning he found his horse gone from the stable. On going to his grandfather McKenney's he found the horse feeding by the roadside more than one-half the distance to H. A. Record's, and a little farther on his harness laid down. A gig left by A. G. Roberts was a short distance beyond the house toward Buckfield village. Sheriff Warren tracked the horse to the village and has been busy trying to get a clue to this party. A great variety of articles have been taken from eggs to barrels of apples picked from the orchards, and now they have an appetite for larger spoils.

Willie Slattery has visited his relatives in Sumner.

The heavy rains have filled the low ground with a plentiful supply of water.

Sunday, Sept. 14, a male quartette composed of W. H. Berry and Harry, George and Everett Connant furnished the church music. Harry gave a solo to close that was finely sung and appreciated by all.

The Angora Goat.

Experience of the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station.

The first problem we met was suitable fencing. We soon found that while they do not jump they are good climbers and that they will go over any fence the top of which they can reach with the fore feet. The horns on some of the ewes point backward in a V shape. In the case of a woven wire fence with square openings even with four inch mesh they will push their heads through the openings and get hung by the horns. With this kind of a fence it was necessary to visit them two or three times a day to release the prisoners. The Ellwood poultry fence (not poultry netting) of the American Fence Company with small diamond shaped openings has proven perfectly satisfactory. It costs about a third more than the ordinary woven wire fence of equal height.

In 1901 we gave them too extensive a range and they did but little clearing up. In May, 1902, six ewes, one buck and five kids were put in an acre of young woodland of a mixed growth, most of the trees three to six inches in diameter. There was a quite thick growth of underbrush. The small underbrush of birch, maple, hazel bush, etc., have been cleaned up so that where there are no alders or evergreens the ground under the trees is as clean as though it had been burned over. Sweet fern they do not like very well, but they have cleaned all of the hardhack out of this piece.

Ferns and brakes have been eaten to some extent. They have eaten the leaves and young sprigs of bushes in preference to grass. Birchies two inches or more in diameter they have not injured but they have stripped the bark from every maple. Even maple trees six inches in diameter have been thus killed. We have found them to be fond of the bark of apple trees, even eating the bark from old trees.

To clean up birch or evergreen woodland they have proven very effective. There has been practically no cost for the summer's keeping. The twelve goats have been kept without other food on one acre of young wood land. They have required no other care than an occasional visit to see that they are all right and that they have water. Salt was given occasionally.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. The small underbrush of birch, maple, hazel bush, etc., have been cleaned up so that where there are no alders or evergreens the ground under the trees is as clean as though it had been burned over. Sweet fern they do not like very well, but they have cleaned all of the hardhack out of this piece.

Pinkham--Phurber.
At high noon Wednesday, Sept. 17, occurred a very pretty home wedding which was attended by many of the prominent people of Fryeburg. The ceremony occurred at the home of Dr. F. H. Jordan, the contracting parties being the sister of Dr. Jordan's wife, Clara Gertrude Pinkham of Alton, N. H., and Frank Waldo Phurber of Montpelier, Vt. Mrs. Jordan was the maid of honor and Dr. Jordan served as best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. O. L. Pinkham of Alton, N. H., a relative of the bride.

The parlors of Dr. Jordan's house were decorated with ferns, evergreen and flowers for the occasion. The bride wore a very becoming gown of white muslin with lace and ribbon trimmings. Mr. and Mrs. Phurber remained in Fryeburg until Saturday when they took a trip through the White Mountains and afterwards to New York where after a short stay they will visit Montpelier, Vt. returning to Alton, N. H., on October 3, where Mr. Phurber has prepared a beautiful home for his bride.

SOUTH WATERFORD.

An Old Landmark Gone.

The old house on Blackguard in which Wm. Green and family lived for many years has been taken down by Irving Hamlin, in whose possession it was.

It was the home of Mrs. Hamlin, one of the daughters of Mr. Green. The house was 100 years old. It was a small one-story building, much weather-beaten and fast going to decay, as no one had occupied it for several years.

The barn across the road still remains.
The buildings were on a high hill overlooking the country. A little distance back up the hill is the place known as Burnell Hill, a very slightly spot on which many years ago was another set of buildings which have long since been burned or gone to decay. Such old buildings are landmarks of the primitive days of our forefathers and we dislike to see them removed.

Interesting Program.

The Stirling Literary Club had a pleas-very little used during the year of the club just closing. Brief sketches of Mary, Queen of Scots, and Sir Walter Raleigh were given by Susie Jewett.
